The effect of the release order apparently has been to lengthen this limit. though how much only the president himself knows.

Under the war department censor ship, information General Function or the general staff may have as to movements of Mexican fromps beyond the border, was not available. Rumors said Carranza forces were mass ing around the strip of territory occupied by General Pershing's men, leaving open only the well-guarded road back to the border.

The rumored movements of Mexican troops, however, appear to be in line with the decision General Currange is said by private advices, it have adopted. It was predicted that he would reafficts his intention to allow no operations of the American forces on Mexican soil except roward the border.
